A Customer From The Beginning

As an early adopter of technology in any form, I jumped on the opportunity to administer tests with the iPads when Q-interactive was introduced. Like any software, the platform has grown by leaps and bounds since the initial release to the point that we could administer and score nearly our entire battery with Q-interactive. The support team has been incredibly responsive to my concerns over the years as well. I'm excited to see the system continue to develop and look forward to integrating Q-interactive even further with our practice!

Making Assessments Better

The concept for Q-interactive began by asking a simple question: how we can we make assessments better for our customers and their examinees? The result was a comprehensive digital assessment system that enables the ability to reach and apply accurate decisions in a flexible, intuitive, engaging and user-friendly manner. We launched our beta at APA in 2012 with five tests and limited system functionality. Since then, we have expanded to 10 countries, nearly 40 tests, and a number of new features. Q-interactive is now used by thousands of professionals who we partner with to bring new tests, features and functionality to continue our journey of making assessments better.
